From the Baron and Baroness

Once again, Flame is hosting South Oaken A&S Regional Competition, this time on April 13th. We hope to see everyone there with their projects.

After A&S comes Border Raids (the new date is still odd). If anyone is interested in a Baronial encampment, let us know. Let's have another Baronial potluck so we can all meet the candidates for Baron & Baroness. See you there!

Erick & Camilla

Baron & Baroness

Seneschal

Unto the Barony of the Flame,

Greetings. The last two years have been interesting to say the least. I am thankful that Ceadda of Fox Hall has stepped forward to take the reins as it were, and allow me to step down as Seneschal soon. I know that everyone will support him in this endeavor.

Remember that the April business meeting will have the voting for the Baronial Charter changes. If you want to have your voice heard, remember to attend.

Yours in service,

Dovaidu maqqas Bagnaidi

Chatelaine

From the office of the Chatelaine:

It's going to get warm very soon and that means some of our favorite outdoor events will soon take place! Many of our new folks are looking forward to such events and are wanting to make outdoor gear including: tents, chairs and tables. If you have any patterns, expertise or advice on building such items please contact me at ernfortney0324@msn.com. We may wish to get a small class together to work on items or publish a few articles in our publication detailing various ways of creating a more authentic outdoor look.

Gold Key needs: gently used large sized man tunics and children's warm weather clothing (small sizes, several of our new folks have children).

My thanks to all of our established baronial members for making our newcomers feel welcome!

Lady Eleanor von Atzinger

Chronicler

Greetings!

April is upon us, which means it's almost time to vote for the proposed changes to the Baronial Charter. Please look them over. We will be voting on the changes during the Baronial Meeting on Sunday, April 28th.

I'd like to thank everyone who submitted information for this edition of the Flamberge. I can't wait to see what you all come up with for the next issue!

In Service,

Lady Marissa von Atzinger

Exchequer

Greetings everyone!

It seems as if the first quarter has flown by and we are all getting ready for South Oaken Regional A&S Competition. Domesday 2012 was submitted successfully...after much coaching from Regional and Kingdom Exchequers.

The official total amount that Christmas Tourney 2012 brought in is: $652.40

The Regional Exchequer, Rowan, wanted me to extend a "big huzzah" to everyone in the our barony for your response to the settlement checks. So, HUZDAH!

I can't wait to see how A&S goes, it sounds like it's going to be a big event this year!

As always, if anyone has a question or concern do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you very much!

In Service,

Lady Honor von Atzinger

Arts & Sciences

We are gearing up for our Regional Arts and Sciences Competition on April 13. We are still looking for teachers and volunteers for judging, set up and cleanup. This is turning into an event worth attending, with class offerings we haven't seen in the past (archery and equestrian 101). Don't forget if you are entering the competition, the deadline to register is approaching fast. You must register online, no walk in entries will be allowed.

I am interested in getting some Saturday classes scheduled for the summer. I will be learning how to felt in the nomadic style within the coming months. I also plan to setup a warp weighted loom. When I decide on dates, I will post to the Yahoo! group. If anyone is interested in learning a new skill or teaching one please contact me. We are also planning a trip to the Lilly Library in the coming months, it will be an excellent chance to see extant manuscripts.

Lady Maiosara Sauromatis

My First A&S Entry

Submitted by Mistress Bianca

My first A&S entry was at an event in Three Hills, Michigan. It was about my third event ever. The contest was for entries with the theme of Spring. I had written a poem which was sort of about the theme, and wrote it down as I remembered it. I had no documentation. To my surprise and delight, I won the prize, a leather purse with ten silver dollars. I carried the purse to events for years, and still have it, and still have the silver dollars. The poem:

The paths I walk,
The web of vibration.
A jay tangles the wind
In blind scream
And does not hear
Or understand my irritation.
The porcupine does not know
It is absurd.
Assured and dangerous,
Weaving a path of quilled air
It pauses, ambles, knows its way.
Nor consolation in trees.
The trembling leaf mosaic
Flows, murmurs.
Designs will not be still.
I can bruise every warm petal underfoot,
Yet my damage is accepted, absorbed
As the snowy fungus
And aphids drinking green milk,
I am only a factor
And accounted for.

FIRST EVENT & EARLY GARB (COTTON! GASP!)

Photos and Text Submitted by Ceadda of Fox Hall

My first SCA event was Candlemas 2007. It was held in the Lexington Civic Center in downtown Lexington in tandem with a Golfing Expo, so there was quite an interesting mix of folk wandering the halls. I went alone, since my sole SCA friends at the time, Tinker and Æric were unable to attend.

Æric was kind enough to lend me a tunic though. It was quite a bit larger than what I needed and sort of hung off of one shoulder. I fondly remember it as 'A Midsummer's Night Flashdance' ensemble. By chance one of the merchants there had a basket of cheap used garb for sale so I picked up a white muslin tunic with 3/4 sleeves and a red cotton tabard, as well as the ubiquitous ring belt.

It was a grand time, with the fighting and the costumes. There was one fellow dressed head to toe as Aragorn from Lord of the Rings, replete with cheap wig and replica silver and green ring. There were couples in matching garb and merchants selling some of the strangest things and a racket of noise from the tournament. One of the only persons I spoke to that day was Sara of the Erie Sea, who couldn't fight as her foot was in a medical brace. But the hall was filled with people that I would one day call friends.

I thought it all a marvelous amusement. Until Court that is. Queen Brigid sat the throne on that day. At some point during the awards and recognitions, a Lady was called before the Queen. At the time I wasn't entirely sure what was going on. The Lady was actually standing behind the throne and she was being award a court baroncy. As she made her way around the seated royalty people were crying and clapping. I remember thinking that there is real emotion here! Its not just a simple game of dress up and make believe, but something tangible and meaningful.

And that was my introduction to the Society.

Ceadda of Fox Hall's early cotton garb.

New Additions to the Bridwell Art Library

The library is open to the public for viewing, and is equipped with two color scanners and a black-and-white copier. You can scan images to your email for free, or pay $0.15 per page for black-and-white printing. Sunday fighter practice is a great time to stop by!

RENAISSANCE VELVETS / LISA MONNAS

Silk velvet was first woven in Europe during the second half of the 13th century, but it reached its peak of perfection during the 15th and 16th centuries—the Renaissance. The V&A holds one of the finest collections of Renaissance velvets, including a papal carpet, a 16th-century cloak, books and caskets covered in velvet, and numerous ecclesiastical vestments. This unique book introduces these velvets to the general reader, setting them within historical contexts, exploring the skills and special equipment needed to produce velvet, and describing the basic weaving techniques.

IMAGINING THE PAST IN FRANCE: HISTORY IN MANUSCRIPT PAINTING 1250-1500 / ELIZABETH MORRISON & ANNE HEDEMAN

From around 1250 to the close of the fifteenth century, the most important and original work being done in secular illumination was unquestionably in French vernacular history manuscripts. This volume celebrates the vivid historical imagery produced during these years by bringing together some of the finest masterpieces of illumination created in the Middle Ages. It is the first major publication to focus on exploring the ways in which text and illumination worked together to help show medieval readers the role and purpose of history.

KNITTING: FASHION, INDUSTRY, CRAFT / SANDY BLACK

In this fascinating book, Sandy Black charts the development of knitting from domestic handcraft to one of the most sophisticated computer-controlled textile production processes used in fashion.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS: 500 YEARS OF GRAPHIC INNOVATION / MATHIEU LOMMEN

This sumptuous collection tells the history of the printed book through milestone publications and little-known treasures of the art of the book. A profusely illustrated visual history of the printed book, from bibles to children's books to modern photography collections, that will delight and inform bibliophiles everywhere.
